Project Background

Cutting expenses is not pleasant to do, but it may be necessary as part of family budget planning. Because times are tough for most people due to the poor economy, budgeting is essential to make ends meet – to avoid unpaid bills and more debt. When family budget planning is done properly this can help many families to live within their means and budget, and help minimize the impact the financial crisis has on their home and finances.

Aim of the project

The main aim of the iFiscus project is to provide the necessary support and web tool to adults' people for proper planning of their family budgets especially in the situation of financial and economic crisis.

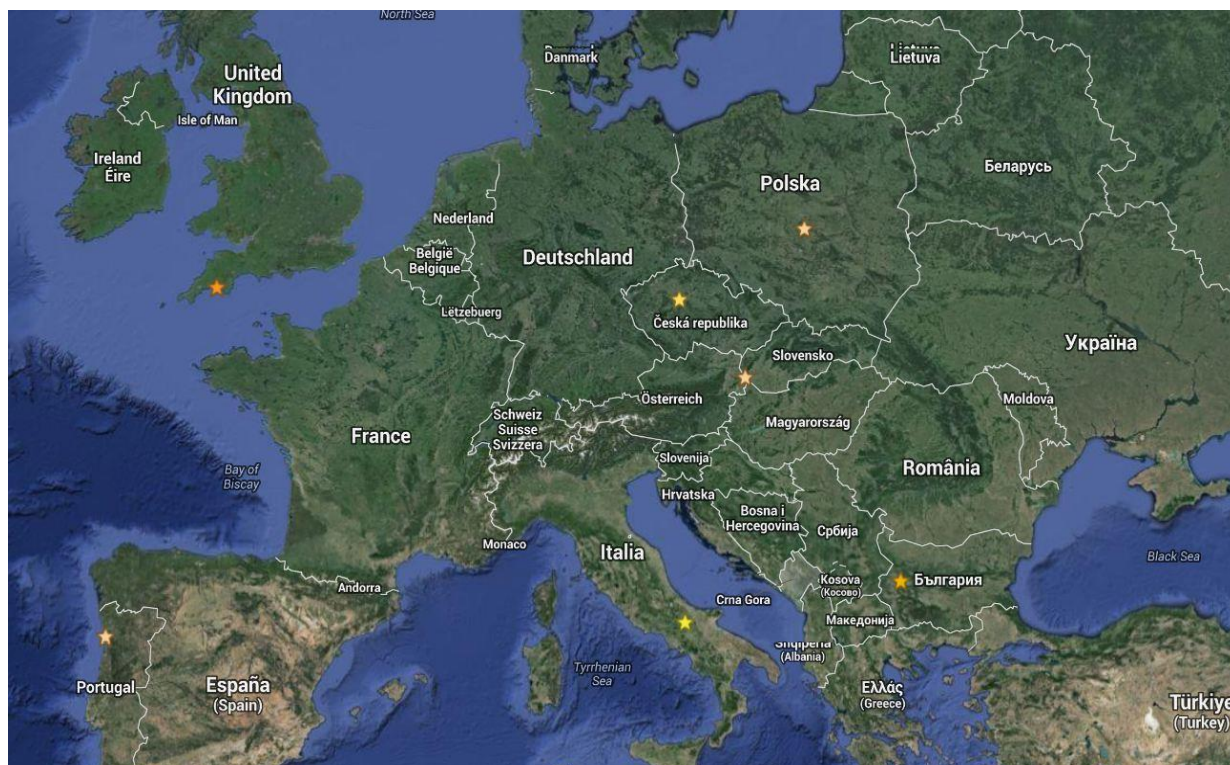

This aim will be accomplished through the creation of a common web tool about expenditures and savings, providing useful templates as well as good practices in family budget planning. Through the web solution adults will be able to easily calculate and plan the domestic/family budget lines on a daily or monthly base. At the same time they will be able to manage their savings and find the best way for them to invest money in different places and activities. Moreover with this web tool, will allow adults to create their own profile with their own budget lines and ideas where, when and how to save money and how much their costs are for some period of time.

Expected project outcomes:

- ✓ A website in English, Bulgarian, Slovak, Italian, Portuguese, Czech, Polish languages;
- ✓ Web tool – programme, application for planning costs and savings, which could be downloaded on personal computer.
- ✓ User manual – supporting project beneficiaries in using the web application and improving their computer skills.
- ✓ Need analysis - European recipes how to overcome the crisis, made during the national surveys, compiled all together by the partnership and published on the project webpage.
- ✓ Published good European practices for saving and investment.
- ✓ Develop local printed/digital, etc. materials for dissemination.
- ✓ Conduction of international workshop - final event on which the outcomes of the project will be presented to the public, especially to adults.
